

Northern Lights seen on the Northwest coast of Norway

A friend says "I had the most wonderful time in Norway travelling up and down the fjords on a Hurtigruten ship. The weather was sunny for 9 out of 11 days travelling to the top of Norway and back which apparently was most unusual. We saw the spectacular Aurora Borealis on six separate evenings - so lucky. The temperature never got above freezing, with around -7C or -8C usual and a couple of times as low as -22C. But well wrapped up the cold was not a problem".
