Model MGBGTV8 – part of a collection held by Victor Rodrigues

Victor Rodrigues says “the photos are not from a new factory MGBGTV8 in my garage but part of my model collection in my MG Room! They are 1:18 scale and it is a fantastic metal model in all details not least the very detailed engine bay under the bonnet! It has the very nice Dunlop composite wheels and a heated rear window. It’s simply perfect in all details. Only the V8 badge on the front grille and the BL-badges on the left front wing were unfortunately forgotten during the production. This 1:18 metal model was made in China by the company Universal Hobbies and the price in Switzerland in 2008 was approximately £55 which is quite a big difference to those now expected to be available from September 2021. I will be interested to know if the doors and bonnet of those new models can be opened and if they include the detailed Rover V8 engine”.
