Front seat bolt head covers

Geoff Lane posted a query on the V8BB on 25th March 2010 - On my passenger side seat frame, I have one plastic cover that covers a bolt head. This is on the bracket that joins the base and back on the seat. I have two bolt heads on the outside of this frame, but only the forward bolt head has a plastic cover. On the driver's side, both bolt heads have a plastic cover. I am just trying to establish if they came from the factory that way, or am I missing one cover on the passenger side.

Response from the V8 Registrar: From the RV8 Parts Manual page C09 it looks as if there are different covers for the driver's seat and the passenger seat – see parts list above.
